In our final review, we sat down with Igor and come to the followings:

1. The dev team had finished the project in time, with the expected functionality .
2. The dev team solved some of the crucial problems, such as check in. They use a QR-code instead of GPS, each RE has its own unique QR-code, that way user must be inside the RE.
3. Some of the extra features such as web design and architecture are not perfect and require improvements in the future.
4. Igor enjoyed working with us, he thinks we are awesome, and can't wait to start and distribute his company's new product.
